Peace, Unity, Invest in young People

Any nation's future lay in the hand of its young people, no prediction can move any nations without investing in young people, by analyzing their education, good employment, access to free education, and upbringing to its young future leaders.

Nations that have raised and invested in their young people correctly are always ready for progress, but those who have not done so, you will find out that it impossible to take control of its youth and the entire country.

This paper examine the threat and vulnerability that lure youth violence extremism Political driver, politics was widespread corruption and perceived impunity for well-connected elites.

For instead by creating widespread anger among youths, a rich men always favour their sons and daughters to be school abroad and immediately get employment after coming back from aboard.

While the poor men the case is different, father will sponsored his daughter or son in public or private school for four to five years, after graduating, the children will still became liability, they may spend another five or more than that without any tangible work.

Which usually caused the youth to join the bad elements.

More directly in corruption usually facilitate the operation of Violence Extremism, for example a uniform officer, who turn a blind eye to the activities of criminals, just because they bribe him with money, or a judicial personnel, they turn the judgement upside down to favour the criminals to go without proper justice.

Poor government, recently in our country Nigeria witnesses the era of lack of good governance, due to the poor government, the extremism escalating into serious terrorism stages, which bring the witnesses of establishment of state under state, or a portion of land to be called another territory, while the money released to purchase arms, it was used in different political scenarios which ended with big historical scam scandal.

Actually, that what in many cases the extremist want, they always want to look for a weak government to operate and find its way of operations in environment that are either lack capacity of good leaders, who can take quick actions.

Therefore, a Nation progress or decline depends on the spirit and seriousness, the upbringing and education given to its youths.

Until we help in investing in our young people through education, advocacy, they can be captives of their environment, and depend their environment with good hearts.

If they get good opportunity to be trained with proper education, good employment, love one another, they can become “Heroes” not VE.

We most know that every individual in this World endeavours to achieve “happiness” and “Tranquillity” and struggles day and night to reach this dream. We need to Stand Up, Raised Up as African to stop these pains and suffering of our future leaders, our investment is not riding big cars, or building mansion, No, but how can we build the foundation of our society security and comfort. The foundation of our future leaders of tomorrow.

What are link between Youth and Extremism: Much has happened and been discussed in different way, in different workshop and conferences, both in print and electronic media.

Lack of proper mentoring among the youth, link them to join the bad element group.

Lack of plan long term project to invest in young people, especially grants to engage the youth in a support development through skill training to be independent.

Lack of proper attention to listen to young people problems. What can we do solve part of their problems, what should they play in their communities.

How can we treat both the rich and the poor, who seek admission in universities or seeking to have job opportunities in our nations. We need to treat them equally with justice and fairness. Ignoring the poor in decision making, doing that caused them to feel isolated and joint the VE. Lack of good community network awareness among other ethnic group, may cause serious problem

Obey the law and order

Teaching Approach

Every communities, need to form teaching approaches that will help to build resilience to extremism among young people.

The teaching methods in our school both in public and private institution, Islamic or Christian We need to establish the best way our children teaching methods are used in a general classroom setting.

The primary objective will be aim to provide appropriate intervention to avoid young people in becoming extremism in our society,

We need to raise the value relationship and love to each other.

Any nations which remain in peace without any conflict. “The secret to happiness was, they maintained good relationships with other nations, instead of creating chaos.

Those who cannot love their own kind cannot live an anxiety a free and secure life, within its nation.

The ties which best bring the happiness of any nation, is through investment among the youth, what will make them to be united to each other, in respect of their religious, social and cultural value. If we really want such happiness to survive, we must set our differences aside and come together with each other’s on some issue.

It is indisputable that bad manners keep people away from each other, for man suffers from the treatment of those whom he resents or cannot relate to. Thus bad manners force people to give up many abilities which could be very useful.
